Objective

Looking for a Junior Full-stack Developer position in a software company where I can improve my software development skill.

Although I have no experience working in software development, but I have been learning by myself until I can build the projects, as you can see in naruebes.me. I have learned a lot from the projects but there are many things that can be improved for the better and I will do it. I love to learn new things to improve myself. I am sure that if we work together, I will be a high value asset that generates huge profits for our company.
